Hopes For Labor Peace Collapse

RESUMPTION OF TWO-YEAR WAR IS SEEN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(UP)—The virtual collapse of peace negotiations between John L. Lewis and William Green pointed the Committee for Industrial Organization and the American Federation of Labor toward a resumption of their two-year-old civil war today.

The leaders of the rival organizations ended their personal meetings last night without reaching a formula either for a truce or a permanent peace. Both Green and Lewis appeared ready to continue their separate struggles for dominance of the labor union movement.

The failure of negotiations came in the face of rank-and-file pressure for some form of truce and a business recession, which labor

There is a saying that bridge and marriage don't mix, and it's true of the Ely Culbertsons, above—but with the usual situation reversed. Mrs. Josephine Culbertson will seek a Reno divorce because she can't stand his "moods" at home, although they get along fine as partners across a bridge table.

SUNDAY LUNCH STARTS STRIKE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4.—(UP)—Ninety steam schooners that ply between the western ports were being stalled as fast as they reached the docks today in a tie-up of coastwise shipping that resulted from a sailor's demand for the price of a Sunday dinner.

The dispute was between the Shippers' Association of the Pacific, comprised of about 20 companies and dominated by the "Big Four"—Dollar, American-Hawaiian, Grace and Matson lines—and two independent maritime unions—the Sailors Union of the Pacific and the Marine Firemen's, Oilers', Wipers' and Watertenders Association.

Breaks Relation

Ralph Myers, president of the Shippers' Association, demanded yesterday that the unions place a new crew aboard the steamer James Griffiths, which is tied up at San Pedro. The unions declined; Myers broke relations with the unions; the unions announced that vessels would be tied up as fast as they docked.

A seaman from the James Griffiths started the trouble. He went ashore and bought himself a hot Sunday dinner for 60 cents. The cooks and stewards departments of the ships usually fix a cold snack for the seamen and then take their Sundays off. This seaman bought his meal and asked the union to reimburse him. The Union asked the shipowners for the money. It was refused and the whole crew of the James Griffiths walked off.

NEW TRIAL IN L.A. DEATH CASE LOOMS

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4.—(UP)—Stanley E. Brooks awaited a decision today whether he must undergo a second trial for the death of Ethel Ostling Schwarz, 23, who plunged from a fifth story hotel window, nude except for one silk stocking.

A jury in his murder trial late yesterday was dismissed while in its third day's deliberations. One juror remarked: "It was merely a romantic misadventure that might have happened to anyone."

The state charged the 26-year-old widow pushed the woman through the window while she struggled against him. Brooks said she made a suicide jump.

Brooks was remanded to jail until the case comes up in January.

ATTORNEY EXCLUDED FROM COURT ACTION

FRESNO, Cal., Dec. 4.—(UP)—District Attorney Earl Warren of Oakland today was excluded from a $10,000 conspiracy suit against the Standard Oil company of California and the San Martinez Oil company of Los Angeles when Federal Judge Leon R. Yankwich granted a motion to quash service of summons on Warren.

James H. Oakley and R. Robert Hunter, deputy district attorneys from Warren's office, represented him here today.

Who's Afraid of Dynamite?

The cylinders in the hand of jovial Detective Sam Schier, right, are four sticks of dynamite. But Mrs. Patricia Davis, left, isn't scared, because two sticks of it have already been used to blast her Chicago home. Charles Karovich, center, isn't scared, because police charge he stole the dynamite from a CCC camp, and carried it about with him for three years—until the affair at the Davis home, following his quarrel with the pretty divorcee. And Schier isn't scared either. You can see that by the way he nonchalantly waves the dynamite in front of Karovich's free hand.

JUDICIAL CHECK IS HELD LEGAL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(UP)—Prof. Henry W. Edgerton, nominated by President Roosevelt to the United States circuit court of appeals told a Senate judiciary subcommittee today that he believed the right of judicial review is "legal and legitimate and intended by most of the framers of the constitution."

His appearance echoed the vain fight by President Roosevelt to obtain a reorganization of the Supreme Court.

He was called before the subcommittee to answer questions in regard to whether he opposed the rights of courts to declare acts of Congress invalid. He started unequivocally that as a judge he would not hesitate to declare a law unconstitutional if he believed it so to be.

Not a Klansman
"You're not," Sen. William E. Borah, R., Ida., concluded with a smile, "a member of the Ku Klux Klan are you?"

"No," Edgerton answered. "And I might add that I never have been a member."

At conclusion of the brief inquiry, all three members of the subcommittee expressed beliefs that their report would be favorable although no formal action was taken. Edgerton's name was submitted for a vacancy on the court of appeals bench in the District of Columbia.

START FORD PLANT ORGANIZATION MOVE
DETROIT, Dec. 4.—(UP)—Officers of the United Automobile Workers said today that six "Ford organization" offices have been opened in Detroit at a cost of $30,000, as headquarters for 44 organizations assigned to contact Ford workers in this area.

Monthly prizes, starting at $100, are awarded for "the best mission work," based on the number of calls made at the homes of Ford men and the number of new members obtained.

A special Ford edition of the union's newspaper, the United Automobile Worker, is issued each week. Officials said that its circulation is now approximately 150,000 copies and they predict it would climb eventually to 300,000.

JONES CALLS U. S.
BUSINESS UMPIRE'
NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(UP)—Chairman Jesse Jones of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, believes that another depression is unlikely at this time, he told a dinner audience last night.

The great need of today is "friendly, determined cooperation between government and business," he said.

"Government must be the friend of business," he said, "but business must learn, and is learning rapidly, that government is the senior partner—and that it is the government's responsibility to see to it that business plays the game squarely, and does not charge too much for its service. "The government must be fair, of course, as fair as a father to a family of children, and there should be no favorites."

START QUERY INTO DEATH OF NAVY MAN

CLEVELAND, Dec. 4.—(UP)—County Coroner S. R. Gerber, retained in a private capacity, reported today after an autopsy, that the body of Thomas J. Trebisky, a first class seaman assigned to the U. S. S. Colorado, whom the navy department had reported a suicide, indicated the youth's skull had been fractured.

The youth's father, Joseph J. Trebisky, said that if his private investigation did not convince him that his son had taken his own life, he would ask the naval board of inquiry to report on the death.

The navy department, according to Trebisky, had reported his son died of a self-inflicted throat wound. The autopsy also showed a throat cut.

Lights carrying the Christmas message of cheer will flash from darkened windows in the business district tonight at 7 o'clock as the first words of the poignantly sweet hymn "Joy to The World" float over the city, marking opening of the annual Christmas Fiesta sponsored by the retail division of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

For 15 minutes before the hymn begins into the sky.

Merchants Cooperate
All merchants have been requested to turn off lights in their show windows and street signs promptly at 6:45 p.m. leaving the city in darkness until the first notes of the opening hymn.

At the same time the thousands of lights used to trim the Christmas trees on every light standard in the business district will twinkle and the eight searchlights to be located at the intersections of Fourth and Main streets and Fourth and Broadway will flash their

$22,000,000 Suit Won By Government

FRESNO, Cal., Dec. 4.—(UP)—Federal Judge Leon R. Yankwich of Los Angeles today upheld the government's $22,000,000 title claim against the Standard Oil company of California in connection with a rich section of oil land in the Elk Hills near Bakersfield, Cal.

Judge Yankwich awarded the government damages of $6,164,112.42 for oil and gas taken from the land.

The oil company was expected to make an appeal to the circuit court of appeals and ultimately seek a decision from the United States Supreme court.

Followed Long Fight

Judge Yankwich, who heard the important suit here in November, came to Fresno to make his decision. It followed years of legal controversy over the oil land, now worth millions of dollars and originally set aside for school pur-

ASKS CRANSTON TO GIVE FACTS

J. A. Cranston of Santa Ana, as guardian of Mrs. Sophie Girardelli, 80, has been ordered to produce in superior court next Monday evidence that he has deposited in some bank the sum of $463.62 to the credit of the guardianship.

The order was made by Superior Judge G. K. Scovell at a hearing of a petition to remove Cranston as guardian of Mrs. Girardelli's estate, when evidence put forward by Cranston in his own personal bank account, and that at the time of the hearing there was less than $100 in the Cranston account.

Account Depleted

Raymond Trevorrow, teller at the First National Bank in Santa Ana, gave evidence regarding the amount in Cranston's account, and stated further that at times the Cranston account containing the guardianship funds, had been depleted to the one now on the calendar of the special session.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt's announcement was made after an all-day session with the A. F. of L. executive council. He had summoned the council when the Black-Connery bill, which would provide for a maximum work week of not more than 40 hours and minimum wages

Solons Plan To Act On Wages Bill

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(UP)—Congressional leaders continued plans for consideration of the administration's wage-hour bill today despite announcement by the American Federation of Labor that it will propose a bill embodying a flat 40 cents an hour minimum wage and a 40-hour maximum work week.

House leaders said that no change would be made in their plans to bring up the Senate-approved measure Dec. 13. They have just completed a two-week drive to get the bill out of the rules committee where it was pigeon-holed last session.

O'Connor Questions

"What is Green going to do with the bill?" Rules Committee Chairman John J. O'Connor, D., N. Y., asked. He said that it would be virtually impossible to consider any other measure than the one now on the calendar of the special session.

ISSUE INJUNCTION AGAINST PICKETING

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Dec. 4.—(UP)—The building trades council, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, today was under permanent injunction against picketing construction work being done by Fred Jarboe, contractors.

Judge Clarence Harden, in superior court, issued the injunction which was directed against the San Diego Federated Trades and Labor Council and affiliated building trades unions.

"I will not deny any other picketing, if it is legal," the judge said.

Judge Harden's decision pointed to the fact there was no dispute between Jarboe and his employees, all of whom were non-union workers.

It also pointed out Jarboe was paying wages equal to the union scale.

FOLSOM SWING BAND
MAY 'GO ON THE AIR'
HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 4.—(UP)—Daily Variety, film trade paper, today said a convict orchestra at Folsom prison was seeking a radio sponsor with the full support of Warden Clyde Plummer.

In today's issue, Variety said: "For radio sponsors who want a show that is different, there is but the formality of seeking the warden and a deal can be cooked up that fast."

Warden Clyde Plummer yesterday declared that convicts will be permitted to broadcast from the penal institution and that he will consider all applications received by phone, wire, missive or in person."

BASE DEMAND ON MARINE, NIPPON CLASH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(UP)—Congressional advocates of strict neutrality renewed their demands today for immediate withdrawal of U. S. troops from the Sino-Japanese war zone after American marines had almost clashed with Japanese troops in Shanghai's International Settlement.

Sen. Gerald P. Nye, R., N. D., leader of the senate mandatory neutrality bloc, said the troops should not have been sent to the settlement "in the first place."

Warms of Danger

Sen. Bennet C. Clark, D., Mo., warned that every day American soldiers remain in China there is "danger of embroiling the whole nation."

The state department had expressed deep concern over the serious incident between the Japanese and American troops that was threatened, Secretary Cordell Hull said that American officials at

MOTHER OF GOP LEADER CALLED

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4.—(UP)—Mrs. Mary Hamilton, 81, mother of Chairman John D. M. Hamilton of the Republican National Committee, died early today. Her death resulted from a stroke of apoplexy suffered more than a month ago.

Mrs. Hamilton died at 5:32 a. m. at the home of another son, Hale Hamilton. At her bedside were Hale Hamilton and his wife, two nurses and a physician.

John D. M. Hamilton is in Washington and cannot come west for about ten days, the family said, so the funeral will be delayed until then. The service probably will be held in Forest Lawn Memorial Park at Glendale, Cal. Hamilton flew here for a quick visit to his mother's bedside recently and was forced to hurry back to the east.

Mrs. Hamilton was born in Keokuk, Iowa. She lived most of her life in Topeka, Kans., where her husband, John D. M. Hamilton, died in 1914. The elder Hamilton was general claims solicitor for the Santa Fe railroad. She had made her home with her son here the past five years.

The sons and two grandchildren, the children of John, are the only close survivors.

not less than 40 cents an hour, became more certain of passage. Heretofore the federation has advocated the 30 hour week and a 40 cents an hour wage scale. Green had condemned the bill pending in the house, particularly its feature which would set up a five-man board to administer the act.

To Present Bill
Green said the federation's bill would make the act a "law of the land" and provide for enforcement by the department of justice. As soon as it is drafted it will be offered to congress, he said.

"Our opposition to the proposed five-man board," he said, "springs largely from our disappointing and distressing experience with the national labor relations board."

He said the federation does not "look with favor" on an amendment offered by Chairman Mary T. Norton of the house labor committee, which would substitute an administrator for the five-man board and give jurisdiction to the department of labor.

ASKS CRANSTON TO GIVE FACTS

The Girardelli guardianship, dating back to 1922 when she was declared incompetent, has been the field of frequent court disputes and contests. Twice Mrs. Girardelli has sought to be restored to capacity, but her petition was each time denied.

Mrs. Rasmussen, following Cranston's appointment as guardian, sought his removal, her latest attempt being a petition filed November 5, this year, when she charged him with wasting and mismanaging the estate. She claimed he sold off real estate worth $7500 for $500, to get cash with which to invest $7000 in an insurance annuity paying Mrs. Girardelli $51.03 per month, the insurance company being one for which Cranston himself was agent; he planned to collect a commission of several hundred dollars, she asserted. When the court refused to permit it, she stated, he then suggested an insurance company for which his son was agent, but this also was refused, after which another insurance company was selected.

Her petition made other charges against Cranston with respect to the handling of his ward's funds, and included the statement that once when she was taken to the county hospital, she had $300 in cash on her, the money being taken from her and not accounted for. Cranston, in his answer to this petition, made a denial of all the accusations she made.

Three horse race wagering forward companies are operating in Santa Ana at present. The California Forwarding Company on West Fourth street, was first to begin operations and it was this agency which impelled city council to adopt a prohibiting ordinance, not yet effective.

Hammond was introduced by George Scarvie, program chairman.

Hammond said success is largely a matter of behaviour, motivating thoughts and purpose in life. Men who succeed in life, Hammond said, are workers and have established a purpose big enough to challenge them to achieve success.

He also pointed out that real thinking is necessary to success.

"Only two per cent of the people do the thinking for the other 98 per cent" he said, "we must constantly renew our enthusiasm and do something about our business and not swallow all the propaganda being constantly handed to us."

IS IT FAR TO BETHLEHEM?
"Is it far to Bethlehem?"
"Tonight I sit with me,
Ponder in my heart upon
The Nativity."

"What is that I faintly hear?"
"Only winds that sigh"
"Only winds? More like a new Born baby's cry."

"And that shining through the dark!
The basement candle? Quick!
See the halo wreathed around
Its wick . . ."

Is it far to Bethlehem?

If you ask and answer back:

St. Joseph's day.

When myriad golondrinas swell

As they have since a tower bell

CHORUS TO SING AGAIN IN WARD

Members of the Franklin Parent-Teachers' Association executive board will hold their Christmas party at 1 p.m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. T. G. Crossley, 1224 West Fourth street.

Following a short business meeting, during which Christmas plans will be discussed, there will be a social hour and gift exchange. All officers of the organization, and grade mothers are invited to attend.

Records show that Pennsylvania leads the various states in the Union in the number of miles of hard surface roads.

When the federal music project mixed chorus sang last month at the Orange county hospital, their reception was so enthusiastic that repeated requests for a return concert have reached project officials. In response, Leon Eckles, project supervisor, stated today arrangements had been made for the group to appear again at the hospital at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Appropriate to the Yuletide season the program will be comprised entirely of Christmas music, it was announced. The 30 choristers, visiting the various wards, are to sing as their opening number an old Catalan nativity song, "The Three Kings." Also on the highly selective program is "The Shepherds and the Inn," a very old Mexican carol adapted to music by the well known composer, Harvey Gaul.

Savoring of Christmas carols in Baronial hall of Merris Old England is the traditional song "God Rest You, Merry Gentlemen."

The poem of Martin Luther, "In a Manger," written for his children, with a musical arrangement by Spelman, and "Gesu Bambino," bearing tidings of comfort and joy to little hearts, will be sung especially for the children's ward. "Holy Night," without which no

Christmas concert is complete will be performed in a beautiful new arrangement. "Lo, How a Rose," by Preatorius, a 16th century melody, completes the program arranged by Dodley Page Harper, director of the chorus.

CHAPTER XIV
ZACHARY "HADES" JONES was a bit weary when he returned to camp that night. The 24-mile round trip had taken him two full days.

"These danged mules is contrarier in a thunderstorm," he grumbled. "They ain't pack broke good yet. Here, Holliman, would you help me with these here kags, please sir?"

They unloaded the fresh cool water, ample for drinking, cooking, and scanty toilet until another week should pass. Then Hades released the animals for a bit of grazing nearby. There was a hole of stagnant water just a mile away, all right for the stock but too alkaline or "salty" for human use.

"Where at's th' boss?" Hades asked.

"Ain't seen him all day. And by grabs I'd like to know, too!"

"Eh?" Hades paused to look questioningly at Holliman.

"Well, fact is, Hades, he's out with 'Lissa. Just them two."

Hades spat rather copiously and glared at Holliman.

"S'posen he is? Ain't no lion, is she? Ain't gonna hurt him none?"

"Hell, no! But what business has he got taking a young gal out by herself?"

Hades, aged 70-odd, stepped forward menacingly.

"What do you mean, Holliman? Why you lyin'—!"

"Shut up, old man. Want me to slap you down?"

No one had dared to speak thus to Hades Jones in more than half a century. Uncle Hades had friends, and enemies who respected him, in practically every county and corral from El Paso to Yuma.

However, it was the utter surprise of his "sass" which saved Holliman some serious embarrassment, there in camp.

Hades' jaw just dropped. Five seconds later, unquestionably, he would have had two massive pis-

DONS, INDIANS TIE AGAIN; WHAT TO DO?

Many Coaches 'On Spot'

'You Got Somethin' There,' Said Henry McLemore

BY MASON YOULL

Henry McLemore, internationally known writer and ace of the United Press sports staff, turned from the microphone at the Municipal Bowl and said "And I mean every word of it."

McLemore had just told 12,000 fans at the Santa Ana-San Bernardino jaycee game that he had witnessed many games across the country and that the brand of football played by the two jaycee teams was comparable to that of some of the larger colleges in the East and Midwest.

"As you know," McLemore told the writer, "football in the colleges is more or less of a business. I won't say it is commercialized, but it hangs on the edge. These junior college boys play for the love of the game and do they play for keeps?"

Pays Both Teams Tribute

After the first half last night McLemore paid a fine tribute to both teams when he said "that was as fine football as I have seen in the last three years. There was not a penalty and not a fumble. Both teams used good judgment in their choice of plays. The boys tackled hard but were not vicious.

"Frankly I wasn't sold on coming down to Santa Ana to see a couple of junior college football teams play. But now I wouldn't have missed this for anything. I'm getting a wallop out of it and what's more I'm seeing more football than I have on my trip across the country. If these two teams play again next year and I'm on the coast you can't keep me away from this game."

Speaking of the game at the Rose Bowl on New Year's day between California and Alabama, McLemore said he's picking Alabama.

"Maybe it's because I'm from the South," he said, "but the game will be one worth watching. Alabama probably is sending its poorest team of the five that has appeared in the Rose Bowl. But the best football in the nation is being played in the South right now. I believe, however, that Pittsburgh is the best team in the nation today and would give California a real trimming. Fordham isn't near the team Pittsburgh is nor is it comparable to Alabama. My tip to you is don't let your loyalty to California sway your wagering."

Amazed At Crowd

McLemore was amazed at the size of the crowd that turned out here and was high in his praise of the conduct of the fans.

"With this intense rivalry you'd expect some fights and tearing down of goal posts," he said. "It's a tribute to Santa Ana the way this crowd has acted. I haven't seen any drinking here and the spirit of the fans is something to write about. Everybody seems happy. And I guess they are. I know I am."

McLemore paid a compliment to Mayor Fred Rowland and Councilman Ernest Layton, personally, on the Municipal Bowl, saying it is one of the finest small plants he has seen on his trip across the country.

"Oh yes," McLemore said as he left for Los Angeles. "I'm going to try and get Roquet and Mercurio to go to the Upper Georgia School of Optometry next year."

McLemore began his newspaper career as a reporter on the Atlanta Georgian. Later in New York he worked as a sandwich-cutter, a bell hop and a deck hand on a freighter before getting a job for a year on the International News. Eight years ago he joined the United Press and has been with them since. One night a sports reporter was taken ill and McLemore was assigned in an emergency to write the story. He did such a swell job he's never written anything but sports since. The United Press now features his daily stories, wires them to a thousand newspapers in the United States.

WEST WINDS

Here and There in Local Sport

"ALL IS CONFUSION" AFTER DON-INDIAN GAME

"All right," said Bill, "We'll be around."

"I'll call you Monday and see what we're going to do."

"Okay, Doug; good night."

And thus ended, I think, a how of a season.

Anything more would be anti-climax.

WHAT'S THE EXCUSE?

The sports corner's telephone jangled constantly today, and most of the conversationalists had a chip on their shoulder. They were "burned up" at the way things were handled at the Municipal Bowl last night, and I don't blame 'em.

For some reason, not as yet satisfactorily explained, the East gates of the stadium were opened at least ten minutes before the West (Santa Ana) gates, and when the powers-that-be finally got around to upholding the West doors all the good seats in the West section had been snatched by the "Easterners," if you follow me through the fog.

This situation in itself was pretty terrible. But what made it unbearable was the ribbing the stymied "Westerners" took from the interlopers who were in "their" seats. The "Westerners" couldn't do anything but stay and like it. They were hemmed in so close they couldn't budge.

When the West doors were finally opened there was a terrific crush. The riot made a center rush through the gates, bowling aside women and children and ignoring the ticket-takers. Fortunately, nobody was hurt seriously but there might have been thunder to pay.

"You can bill it any way you like up there but our parents will call it for the Southern Cal. title," laughed Cook.

"Say, Eddie, what do you think about this 'first down' business?" asked Smythe.

"Not so hot," sezzy. "You can't decide championships on paper. The field is the place to make points."

"That's what I think," agreed Smythe. "If first downs decided it we could have claimed the championship after the game at San Bernardino."

"Well, of course the 'first downs' rule was interposed for the sole purpose of the playoffs, to guard against this very thing of two tied teams tying again. But it won't work. It is absurd."

"I wonder what the administrators will do when they meet Monday night?" asked Los Angeles' Ackerman. "We should like to play Santa Ana but the conference might not stand for it. And Ventura, which claims they tied us for first place, would be sure to have a howdy murder."

"Here's an idea," suggested San Bernardino's Smythe. "Let's have a four-team carnival. San Bernardino and Santa Ana will stand Los Angeles and Ventura, each team playing a half or even just a quarter and switching opponents. It would be novel at least."

"Sounds interesting," said someone in the gathering crowd. "Would draw too."

"Why not play San Bernardino again?" yelled one of the Dons.

"By the way, what was the 'gate' tonight?" interjected Smythe.

"What do you think, Ed?" asked Cook.

"Haven't the slightest idea."

"What does the joint hold?" That from Smythe.

"The permanent stands are supposed to seat 8000 but they won't. At least the payoff never shows it. About 6000 is never right. There were at least 12,000 here tonight."

"At least," everybody agreed.

"Well, I got to be going, Bill."

WELFARE GROUPS TO CONSOLIDATE WORK

MESA SESSION SET FOR DEC. 6

Joint 20-30 Dinner Set For Monday

COSTA MESA, Dec. 4.—With plans to consolidate the welfare work of the Red Cross, American Legion auxiliary, Lions club, Camp Fire girls, Friday Afternoon club, Women's Relief corps, Costa Mesa Community church, Four Square Gospel church and the parent-teacher associations of the elementary and high school, the relief chairmen of these organizations will meet at the home of Mrs. Henry Abrams, 1870 Fullerton avenue, 7:30 p. m. Monday.

It is planned to establish a central clearing house for relief work where each organization can report needy cases.

Some families have been receiving aid from several organizations while others greatly in need of aid are not receiving it, it is learned. Relief agencies have been collecting old clothing, furniture, newspapers, etc., from Costa Mesa citizens and hauling it out of town. It is planned to correct this practice. Contributions are now being accepted at the Pinkley pharmacy. Names and addresses of any needy persons of the community may be registered there.

Over 100 memberships were registered in the recent Red Cross drive of the Costa Mesa chapter, exceeding the 1937 quota by 30 percent, a figure which surpasses the goal set by the national headquarters. The drive was conducted by Goss Grable, Mrs. Harry Iverson, Mrs. George Teasen and Mrs. Charles Lipscomb, under the leadership of Mrs. A. L. Pinkley, chairman of the local chapter of Red Cross.
